Man is a lawmaking creature. The laws he has made run into millions. Yet he is always running into the ones he didn't make — the Ten Commandments.

Which shows man, wanting to pass a law, isn't as smart as his Maker, who wants him to pass a temptation.

There is evidence from the Ruhr valley, where a free election was held among German miners and steel workers last Sunday, that Europe still holds the seed of an enduring peace.

The Ruhr, once the Communist powerhouse of Western Germany, turned the Reds down cold. As late as three years ago the Communists polled 14 per cent of the vote, but Sunday they were down to 5 per cent.

Nor did the miners and steel-makers make the mistake of springing too far the other way. The Hitler-talking Nationalists got nowhere, polling less than 2 per cent.

As a matter of fact, the great majority of Germans voted for a couple of middle-of-the-road parties. At the same time they favored some socialistic schemes, such as nationalizing the heavy industries of the Ruhr — but that's being no more radical than what the British have done, or what some Americans have tried to do.

The Germans, therefore, are beginning to behave like citizens of a self-governing country. Whether their government will continue to be a responsible one, surviving the economic storms ahead instead of surrendering to the Communists or some dictator as they did after World War I, remains to be seen.

There is a chance that the democratic experiment will succeed. The Germans who came over here made good citizens. If tradition can work its way westward there's no reason why it can't make a round-trip and do something for Germany and Europe in this day of world crisis. The Ruhr election is important to us at the moment because it definitely stamps Western Germany as unfriendly to Russian policy — and while Germany holds Western thought and democratic processes there isn't going to be much trouble with Russia.

And the reminder that trouble becomes the greater the chance that Germany can hold together as a republic — and help Europe maintain the peace.

Rules for New School Students

James H. Jones, superintendent of schools, announced today that all parents in Hope school district who have children entering school for the first time this fall should consult with your family physician and see if any corrections are needed if you have not already done so. The following things should be done immediately: (1) Secure a birth certificate for the child. (2) Have your child vaccinated against smallpox so that the arm may be healed before he enters school (vaccination is a legal requirement). (3) For his greater safety see that he has also had diphtheria shots, whooping cough vaccine, and the tuberculosis skin test.

A child who will be six years old on or before December 31 may enter school this fall.

Volunteer Cotton Field Discovered

Gordon Prescott who sometime or other tramps over practically every field in Hempstead county discovered something yesterday that is unusual for this area.

He found from 7 to 10 acres of volunteer cotton on the farm of Isaac Henry, Patmos Negro. Henry has disked the field cutting last year's stalks near the ground. The new cotton is putting out from the old stalks.

This is practically unheard of here although its common practice in several western states where the temperature is mild the year around. There was no freeze severe enough last winter to kill the stalks.

Southern India has replaced Indonesia as leading pepper producer since the war because many Indonesian plantations were abandoned.

Tax Proposal Goes Too Far Says Doughton

Washington, June 20 —(P)—Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.) of the tax-framing house ways and means committee said today he believes a $433,000,000 tax boost the committee has voted for corporations "goes too far."

The top Democratic tax manager disclosed in an interview that the committee put the boost into its general tax bill over his personal opposition. He said 14 committee Democrats voted for it. He and 10 Republicans were opposed. Doughton did not indicate what position he would take when the bill goes to the house floor next week for a vote.

If he openly opposes the rise then, his position might be decisive in event of a close division in the house. As chairman of the committee, Doughton will be in charge of the bill. He also holds considerable personal influence with many legislators on tax matters.

The bill cuts excise taxes by $1,010,000,000. The boost in corporate taxes was designed to offset this cut in part and win presidential approval of the measure.

Coal, Steel Merger Groups Study Plans

Paris, June 20 —(P)—French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman today told delegates from six Western European nations, assembled here to plan a merger of their coal and steel industries, that "we feel we will not be permitted to fail or quit without finishing our job."

The conference which Schuman opened in the foreign ministry Salle De L'Horloge (cock room) was historic, he said because never before had the West European states delegated a "fraction of their sovereignty to an independent, supra-national authority."

Urging his proposal to put Western Europe's coal and steel and industries under control of an international body empowered to make binding decisions, Schuman said the nations must find means "outside our national limits" to create a more rational economic structure, to cheapen production and to open new markets.

The six nations represented today — France, Western Germany, Belgium, Italy, the Netherlands and Luxembourg — all have agreed to the idea. Britain has held back. Schuman expressed a hope that the British later would join the pool.

"We cannot conceive of Europe without her," he declared, adding, "we know — and this reassures us — that the British government hopes for the success of our work."

Following today's opening meeting, the delegates will hold secret sessions to plan details of the working of the pool and its controlling authority.

Britain, wary of giving final control of her vast coal and steel industries to someone else, will be informed in detail of the progress of the talks. Foreign Office Economist Herve Alphand will confer daily with British Minister in Paris William Hayter, supplying details for a nightly report to London.

France has a plan drafted by top economic planner Jean Monnet that includes an entire treaty, drafted down to the last "whereas." It will be submitted to the other delegates for criticism and negotiation, if this has not been done already.

Other nations also may have some partial or complete drafts of their own to put forward.

Dr. Crow Is Speaker at Chiropactic Meet

Dr. F. C. Crow, Hope, was one of the principal speakers at the meeting of the Southwest District of the Arkansas Chiropactic Association here Sunday.

"Times have changed compared to what they were when I first established a practice," Dr. Crow said, "but chiropactic has kept abreast of these changes and through research seeks better methods in correcting the cause of the diseases of humanity."

The Southwest District of the ACA will meet in Hot Springs June 25.

Second Polio Death in Arkansas

Little Rock, June 20 —(P)—Arkansas' second polio death of 1950 has been reported.

K. W. Newman, administrative director of university hospital here, said yesterday the Saturday death of a two-year-old boy, Billie Dana Nance, Little Rock, had been attributed to the disease.

Price Support Condemned by Bureau Officer

Sturgeon Bay, Wis., June 20 —(P)—A vice president of the American Farm Bureau Federation has condemned the policy of "excessively high support prices" for farm goods as provided by present laws.

Romeo E. Hort, a rice grower of Brinkley, Ark., told a Midwest farm bureau training school yesterday that the support price of $1.80 per 100 pounds of rice is so high it won't sell at that figure and rice is being taken over by the government.

That price support level is "unrealistically high" because of technological advances made in rice farming in the last few years, he said.

Short said five men now can harvest the same amount of rice which formerly required 35 men by using mechanical harvesting and planting machines developed since World War Two.

Hoover May Get Additional Spy Hunters

Washington, June 20 —(P)—J. Edgar Hoover's campaign for 300 additional FBI agents to hunt down Communist spies appeared today to be tabbed for victory.

The house appropriations committee and a senate appropriations subcommittee were reported to have agreed to approve the FBI director's request.

The senate subcommittee's recommendation is expected to be accepted in turn by the full appropriations group and the senate.

Hoover told senators two months ago in a secret session that there are 54,000 known Communists and some 500,000 Red sympathizers in the United States who form a potential fifth column of traitors.

He said at that time that the Communists were more active today than Fascist and Nazi agents ever were during World War II.

Hoover's testimony, released on June 8, left a deep impression on lawmakers. One senator, who asked that his name be withheld, said both the house and senate groups felt Hoover should get the full number of agents he requested plus about 400 additional other employees to help carry the federal bureau of investigation's heavy work load.

This would give Hoover the largest force of undercover agents the federal bureau of investigation ever had and allow for greatly increased activity in seeking out subversives and foreign spies.

In asking congress for a added funds for increasing his force, Hoover argued the FBI must increase its efforts to preserve internal security. And he added: "If we are to preserve our internal security in times of emergency, it is incumbent that the identities of those who work against the peace and security of America be established."

Police Kill Kidnapers of Two Youths

Steubenville, O., June 20 —(P)—The kidnaping of two Pennsylvania boys and their imprisonment in an auto trunk during a 1,500 mile, two-day ride was a closed case today — their captor dead with a policeman's bullet in his heart.

But the nation's most strange and violent crime spree of Joe Pacific, 32-year-old Canonsburg, Pa., electrician, probably were known to him alone and when he died emptying his pistol at police pursuers in nearby Mingo Junction yesterday afternoon.

The two boys Pacific kidnaped—Nick Cursi, 18, and Joseph Zolmerchik, 19, both of Cokesburg, Pa.—came out of the harrowing experience weak from thirst and hunger, bleeding from head wounds, and terror-stricken. But they were not harmed seriously.

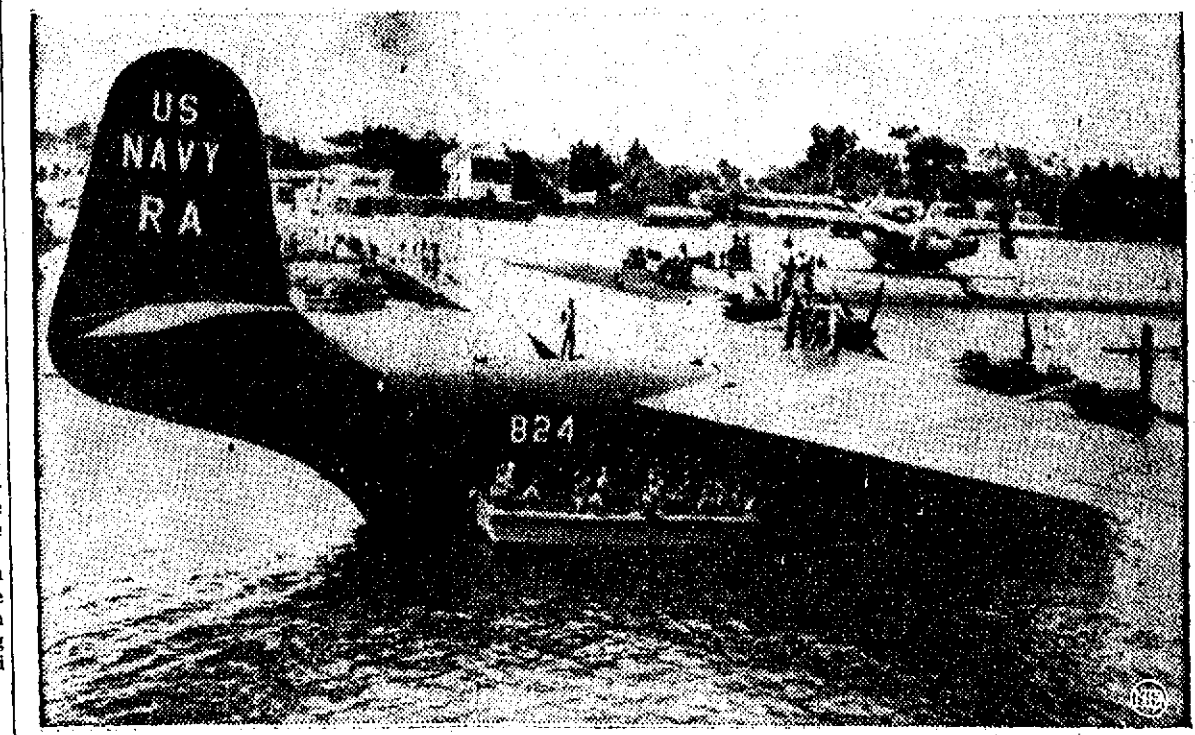

Their long ride started near Canonsburg Saturday night when they picked up the hitchhiking Pacific on their way to a dance in Cursi's car. Pacific robbed them of $16, Zolmerchik said, returned it saying he was joking, then took it back again, slugged them with his pistol butt, and locked them in the car trunk.

Yesterday morning Pacific drove the car to the home of his estranged wife's parents, beat her with his gun and forced her to go away with him in the car.

It was the wife, Matilda, 30, who called Mingo Junction police when Pacific left the car there to go into a store to buy her a dress to replace the blood-stained one she wore.

The kidnaper fled afoot and eluded police posse for more than an hour. Sgt. Sam Baker said Pacific shot at him three times and missed before Baker fired a bullet into his chest. The fugitive ran a few yards, slumped down, fired another shot at his pursuers and collapsed dying.

Coroner John P. Smarrella of Jefferson county closed official investigation of the case last night by ruling the slaying "justifiable homicide."

Denies Report Judy Garland Tried Suicide

Hollywood, June 20 —(P)—Widespread reports that Actress Judy Garland had tried to slash her throat in a fit of despondency brought a quick denial today from her husband, Director Vincent Minelli.

"There is no truth whatever in the report," said Minelli.

"My God, can't they leave her alone?"

"The poor girl is very much upset but this—oh, no!" Minelli said Miss Garland, 27-year-old songstress suspended by her studio (M-G-M) last week for failing to report on a picture, was resting and could not be disturbed.

The report was published in two Los Angeles afternoon papers. One report said Minelli intervened and took a knife away from his wife before she could hurt herself.

This Minelli also denied. Judy failed to report for work on "Annie Get Your Gun" last year and was suspended by Metro. Betty Hutton took the role and Miss Garland went to a Boston hospital for treatment.

She returned and did "Summer Stock," which has had excellent reviews.

Poor Man's Philosopher Has Some Timely Tips for a Young June Bridegroom

By HAL BOYLE
New York, —(P)—Tips by the poor man's philosopher to a young June bridegroom:

Well, my boy, if you hope for a quick success in marriage today you're going to have to make a sharp break with the past.

"Don't try to be the king in your kitchenette. Man has tried through the ages to rule his roost by force—and ended up just a mouse around the house. This is because he has never been able to make his muscle match woman's indomitable will, her soft insistence on having her own way."

The thing to do is to confuse her, worry her into a position where she'll spend the rest of her life trying to make you happy.

You must remember that you are going into marriage completely unprepared. But she has been warned by her mother: "I'll try to rule you, dear. So you put the beast in his place right at the start."

The best thing you can do is do the unexpected. Crush her with loving kindness. Bring her flowers every day from work and greet her with a kiss.

Don't let her lift her finger around the house. You do all the chores. You wash the windows, scrub the bathroom floor, run the cleaner, gallop to the grocery store. Do as much of the cooking as you can. And, above all, insist on washing the dishes and drying them all by yourself.

"No dishpan hands for my little darling," you can tell her.

Naturally she'll be compare you critically to her own father. She'll be lonesome for her mother, too. So don't bring your own noisy friends home. Invite her parents over for dinner at least five nights a week.

Then belt her old man with marriage.

Three Counties Show Gain in Population

Jonesboro, June 20 —(P)—Three of the five counties in the Jonesboro census district have shown population increases during the past ten years, Area Census Supervisor Rupert Blalock announced today.

Craighead county showed the largest increase, 47,200 to 50,565. Mississippi county rose from 80,217 to 82,339 and Poinsett from 37,670 to 39,011. Clay and Greene counties showed slight losses.

The final figures from the office listed Jonesboro's population at 16,260 and Blytheville at 16,221. Paragould has 9,660.

Fulton School Receives 'A' Rating

James H. Jones, superintendent of schools, announced today that the Fulton Elementary school had received an "A" rating from the State Department of Education for the year of 1949-50, along with all other schools of the district. The rating is based on the following items: Length of term, grades per teacher, average number pupils belonging in each classroom, teacher qualifications, library, supplementary readers, Criteria. The district has not been notified as to the final rating of the Negro schools.

Hope High school was again approved by the North Central Association of colleges and Secondary schools.

Native of Hempstead Dies in Pine Bluff

Luther E. Gilbert, aged 58, died Sunday at his home in Pine Bluff where he had lived for the past 26 years. He was a native of Hempstead county and was born at Powers, the son of the late John F. and Alice Coleman Gilbert, pioneers of this county. His survivors include a nephew, Carl Gilbert of near Hope.

Load of Cross Ties Burn at Fulton

A load of cross ties on a Missouri Pacific siding caught fire and burned at Fulton last night, city Firemen announced. Two trucks made the call about 1 p.m. but lack of water enabled them only to keep the blaze from spreading. The ties and a railway flatcar were destroyed.

The jerboa, a small rodent built somewhat like a rat, can jump fifteen feet. To make an equivalent jump, considering body size a man would have to jump two hundred feet.

73 Missing as British Ship Goes Down

Alexandria, Egypt, June 20 —(UP)—The British freighter, Indian Enterprise blew up in the Red sea last night and only one of the 74 crewmen was known to have survived.

The 7,310-ton ship carrying 580 tons of commercial type explosives and other cargo was blown to bits 300 miles south of the Suez canal. Unofficial reports said the main parts of the wreckage sank immediately.

Agents for the ship said 71 of the crew members were Indian and three were British.

Maritime officials said they could confirm only that the Norwegian tanker H. Westfall Larsen, bound for Britain, picked up one survivor.

Hope that a few other crewmen also survived was buoyed by a radio message from the Canadian freighter Lake Chilliwack. It said: "Survivors alive but burned on hands and back and still screaming."

But the message made no mention of a rescue.

It was the Lake Chilliwack which radioed the first word of the explosion. The message said: "British steam Indian Enterprise exploded. Am proceeding to scene. All ships in vicinity keep sharp lookout for survivors."

Johnson Is Silent on Formosa

Tokyo, June 20 —(P)—The question of whether U. S. Defense Secretary Louis Johnson may recommend prompt American aid to Formosa was still unanswered here tonight.

After a second day of wrangling by top American officials on Far Eastern defense, one official depicted Secretary Johnson as "leaning our way." The official, who can not be identified, favors immediate aid for Formosa, threatened by the Chinese Communists.

Another high ranking official said the secretary had so carefully hidden his reactions to headquarters that none could be sure how he stood on the Formosan question.

Maj. Gen. Earle E. Partridge, acting commander of the Far East air forces, and his staff officer stressed the danger of allowing Formosa to fall into enemy hands, reliable sources said. The nationalist Chinese held island is 350 miles from Okinawa, big U. S. air base.

Air officers also strongly supported the views of General MacArthur, occupation chief, and his strategists in urging vigorous efforts to save southeast Asia. They emphasized their desire to retain all their present far eastern air bases at top efficiency equipped with the latest types of aircraft.

Senate to Vote on SS Expansion

Washington, June 20 —(P)—The senate begins voting this afternoon (MST) on a bill to expand the social security program.

There was no doubt expressed in advance that the senate would follow the lead of the house and vote increased old age and survivors benefits, and enlarge the numbers of workers covered by the law. The bill would add about 10,000,000 workers to the 35,000,000 now under the law.

The only questions revolved around amendments, and the senate finance committee called a closed session (8:30 a. m. CST) in an effort to agree on a committee stand on these. The idea was to hasten action to get the final bill approved before the senate quits tonight.

The bill would increase monthly benefits to current beneficiaries an average of 85 to 90 per cent and would approximately double the amounts payable to persons retiring in the future. The house-passed bill differs in details. First to be voted on was a largely unopposed amendment providing for a finance committee study of the possibility of eventually having a pay-as-you-go social security system applying to everybody. At present, benefit payments come from a reserve built up by employee and employer contributions.

Other amendments would increase the amount of workers' annual earnings on which social security taxes are collected. This basic figure is now $3,000.

Hungary Would Swap Vogeler for 'Crown'

Vienna, Austria, June 20 —(P)—Communist-ruled Hungary has offered to swap imprisoned American Robert A. Vogeler for one of her most venerated crown of St. Stefan. It was last religious relics, the Allied-held crown of St. Stefan, it was learned here today.

Reliable sources said progress of negotiations between the U. S. and Hungary indicated Vogeler, sentenced to 15 years imprisonment last Feb. 21 for spying and sabotage, might be released within a few weeks.

The crown, which dates back to Hungary's 11th century King Stefan I, was taken from Hungary by the Nazis and found by American troops in Germany. It was last reported held by the western Allies in 1947 at Wiesbaden, in Western Germany.

The United States, reportedly, has urged, has refused to demand by Hungary's government for the crown.

Return of the crown, the sources here said, was the only ransom price set for Vogeler by the Hungarians.

Many Hungarians attribute miraculous powers to the crown and believe that no government holds power legitimately unless it has possession of the relic.

The famous crown was given by Pope Silverius in 1000 to Stefan Hungary's first king. It was a papal apostolic blessing for the king's rule.

Sources here added that no demands were made for either the opening of Hungarian consulates in New York and Cleveland or for repeal of the U. S. ban on American travel in Hungary. The U. S. ordered the consulate closures and the travel ban after Vogeler's conviction by a Hungarian people's court.

Body Found in Lake Hamilton

By The Associated Press
Two persons — a father and a daughter — have died as a result of a traffic accident and two other persons have drowned in Arkansas this week.

Besides that, the body of another drowning victim, Joe Howe, 35-year-old Hot Springs theater owner, was recovered from Lake Hamilton Monday. He apparently drowned last Friday.

Twelve-year-old Sally Ann Ellinghausen died late Monday of injuries suffered Sunday in an automobile collision near Siloam Springs in which her father, John 60, of Tulsa, was killed.

Mrs. Ellinghausen was injured as were the two occupants of the other automobile — also from Tulsa. The body of Henry Stout, about 40, of north Crossett, Ark., was found in Ouachita river Monday. Coroner Don Schultz said the boy had been in the water about 36 hours and there was no evidence of foul play.

Howe's body was found in shallow water along the shore of Lake Hamilton. Evidence indicated he'd fallen from a motor boat while fishing alone. The boat had run aground near where the body was discovered.

Car Overtakes Near Cook's Gin, One Hurt

An automobile driven by Steven Sutton of Prescott overturned on a curve near Cook's Gin on Highway 67 about 8:45 last night. A passenger riding with Sutton, Rufin Shaw, suffered a broken arm. The vehicle was practically demolished. City police investigated.

Hope District Has Increase in Students

Although the countywide school enumeration showed a decrease, Hope District 14 had a 10 per cent increase for the 1949-50 year, James H. Jones, superintendent announced today.

The comparative figures, 2,821 counted in 1949 and 3,121 this year.

McMath Bolter Laney Declares

Little Rock, June 20 — (AP) — Which, if either, of the arch rivals for the Democratic nomination for governor of Arkansas bolted the party?

Governor McMath has said former Gov. Ben Laney left the party fold two years ago when he took over leadership of the States Rights.

Laney, in a speech at Fayette last night, declared that he is the "true Democrat" and McMath the "bolter."

The States Rights leader read Democratic party rules which set forth the principles of preventing encroachment of executive, legislative and administrative tribunals on the legislative and judicial processes, preventing encroachment on local self-government, preservation of existing segregation laws and the poll tax.

These principles, Laney said, were trampled in 1948 by the national Democratic leadership. "To which the present governor has attached himself, body and soul."

"Yes," he continued, "I have always upheld the party's principles. That's why I submit to you that my every political action has proven my loyalty to the true Arkansas Democratic party."

"On the other hand, the present governor should remember how he violated every precept of the party rules in 1948. The shoe was on the other foot when he personally led a group of independent candidates during the 1948 general election campaign in Garland county."

"He supported, spoke for and directed the fight that these independent waged against the regular Democratic nominees at the general election."

Grand Jury Has to Hear Evidence

(Editor's note: This is the second of two stories on special federal grand jury investigations.)

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, June 20 — (AP) — Say a special federal grand jury is appointed, as it was in New York, to look into a special situation, such as subversive activities.

The U. S. district attorney so that New York federal district, acting for his boss, the attorney general, has asked the judge for the district to set up the jury.

He wants it for this special investigation. Its job is to decide whether anyone should be indicted — formally charged — with subversive activities.

(Since subversion is a major crime, the district attorney by himself couldn't charge anyone with it or force him to trial unless a grand jury, hearing the evidence, thought such a charge justified. The constitution says that it must be done that way.)

(The district attorney could gather his evidence and lay it before the regular grand jury, which is loaded down with passing on routine crimes, and wouldn't have time for a full investigation of subversion.)

Or he could ask for a special grand jury not only to pass on the evidence but make, or help him make, a full-blown investigation.)

But — since the district attorney presents the evidence to the special grand jury, isn't it a sort of yes-man for him? No. It may follow his direction or guidance, but it doesn't have to.

It can run its own investigation, if it wishes. For example: Although the district attorney may call witnesses before the jury, the jury can take over the reins and call witnesses of its own.

But if the U. S. district attorney, or the attorney general, wants a special investigation of subversive activities, why turn to the 23 citizens on the special grand jury for help?

(Every grand jury has 23 members, whether it's just the usual grand jury which passes on ordinary crimes or the special grand jury which investigates special federal offenses.)

Why doesn't he ask the FBI, which is the government's chief investigative agency, to do the investigating for him? Couldn't it do better than 23 citizens locked up in a room?

Not always, because sometimes a grand jury can get more information out of more people than the FBI.

If the FBI asked you questions, you could refuse to answer. Nobody could put you in jail for contempt of the FBI. And even if you did answer but lied, you couldn't be jailed for lying to the FBI.

It's different with a grand jury, special or otherwise. When you're called before a grand jury, you're put under oath that what you say is the truth.

If you lie, and are found out, the jury can charge you with perjury. Then you have to go to trial. If convicted, you're jailed.

But suppose you don't want to answer, just as you refused to answer the FBI. Do you have to answer the jury's questions? Yes and no.

If you simply say "I refuse to answer," you can be cited for contempt and jailed. The only time you can refuse to answer is when your answer might land you in jail.

The constitution says "no person in any criminal case shall be compelled to be a witness against himself."

On those grounds alone — that your answer might incriminate you — you can refuse to answer a grand jury's questions.

Which means: Great as a grand jury's powers are, it can't force a man to testify against himself.

Suppose you were accused of a crime being investigated by the special grand jury. You stand on your constitutional rights not to incriminate yourself and refuse to answer. Nothing can be done to you for so refusing.

But suppose you were not involved in the crime at all but, perhaps, were a witness to it. You couldn't be jailed for what happened. Still, you didn't want to talk about it.

Is there any way in which you could refuse to answer the grand jury's questions? No. If you refused, you could be jailed for contempt.

State Hospital Admitted to Surgeon Society

Little Rock, June 20 — (AP) — After ten years of trying, the Arkansas state hospital has gained admission to the American College of Surgeons, which sets standards for all hospitals.

Dr. George W. Jackson, superintendent of the state institution, announced the recognition yesterday.

He said previous efforts of the state hospital for admission had been turned down "on the grounds of overcrowding, poor management, fire hazards and its run-down condition."

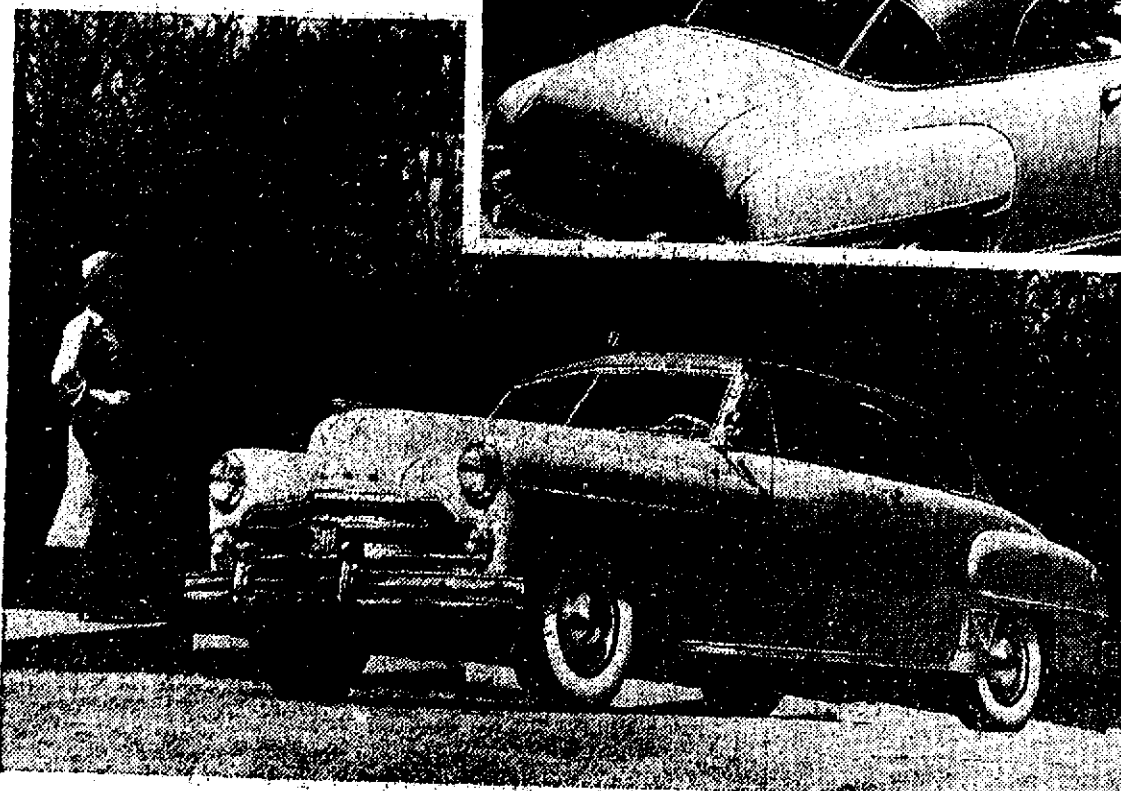

The college's latest report on the institution said:

"The general management is in the hands of competent physicians. There is a definite improvement in the housing and care of patients."

The report said it's up to the Arkansas legislature to keep the hospital on the approved list by providing for further progress.

Asks Governor to Support Aid Program

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., June 20 — (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson appealed to the nation's governors today to support President Truman's program of aid for the world's backward areas.

"By aiding the people of under developed areas to deal with their basic problems of food, health and education," he said, "we shall be strengthening their resistance against extremism of whatever kind."

Acheson spoke before the state governors who have gathered for a four-day study of domestic and world problems.

In his prepared speech, the secretary dealt entirely with United States efforts to help strengthen the free world and maintain world peace.

The administration has advanced the aid to backward areas program — called "point four" after its position in President Truman's inaugural address — as an important factor in building peace. Acheson said that while this program would be a moderate one, the results "will make a great contribution."

Congress has authorized $35,000,000 to initiate the program but has yet to appropriate the money.

Nationalists Claim Airfield Is Destroyed

Taipei, June 20 — (AP) — Nationalist air headquarters announced today Chinese warplanes, braving Russian-built fighters and anti-aircraft guns, destroyed the Communist nist airfield and installations at Foochow the capital of Fukien province.

Foochow is 100 miles northeast of Formosa, base of the Nationalist forces under Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

Heartland, New Brunswick, has covered bridge 1,282 feet long.

Fair Enough

By Westbrook Pegler Copyright, 1950 By King Features Syndicate.

New York, June 19 — Organizational purporting to be Republican issue program, blueprints and schedules to attract Democratic and Socialist votes. Some elder Republicans are so discouraged that they are willing to yield leadership to ignorant, immature and unprincipled sports calling themselves "young" Republicans if, by this means, the party could elect enough nominal Republicans to control the committees in congress. They are frankly willing to vote for actual Democrats and Socialists on the Republican ticket, believing that the mere label on the majority would somehow assure them of Republican administration.

This is despondency. A Republican administration or congress which would put through the Truman-Socialist program of compulsory government medical service involving a checkoff might as well be called a Democratic or Marxian administration or congress. The label would be reminiscent of the mockery of the ill-planned, ill-planned blandishments on the counterfeit Old Stevedore and Old Bathhouse that we decided ourselves during prohibition. It was all hoot and the horrible effects were not ameliorated by the labels. Any Republican who is willing to settle for Senators Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, Aiken and Flinders of Vermont, and Ives of New York, is kidding himself. These people are, at best, Democratic dead-ends who don't uphold the republic which existed until the adoption of the fatal 17th amendment and the 17th, providing for the direct election of senators.

The 16th was the turning point. By that fundamental change, the people ceased to be masters of congress and became subjects of congress and the White House. It abolished their right to any portion of their earnings. We now retain only as much as congress, by a generous impulse, allows us to keep. Cordell Hull, the Democratic hill-billy congressman of that day was the author and most potent advocate of the 16th. He had not the excuse of the ignorance which might be said to mitigate the crime of the sockless haymakers who only understood that this was a chance to thrive on the taxes of the New York and Chicago city slickers.

One of the "young" Republican programs proposes to grant federal money to states with low per capita wealth and low public revenues to raise their expenditures per child "at least to the national educational average." One reason they have low revenues is that income tax and social security take the substance. The question whether the federal government has any right to pay part of the cost of educating children is glibly decided in favor of the idea. But the constitution of this republic never even entertained the thought that a New Yorker should have to pay a per capita to provide elaborate school buildings and fancy affectations for the children of the Arizona citizen whose per capita wealth is far below his rate of expenditure on schools. The erratic activity which is called education was none of the federal government's business. It would be equally reasonable to make the citizen of Key West pay taxes to shovel snow off the walk of a citizen in Buffalo. "Education" has become a vast professional racket for parasites and conspirators with a devouring appetite for taxes, pushing children out from an advance guard.

MORE MORE MORE

Lynching is similarly stirred into the marxian confusion which some nominal Republicans profess to regard as Republican doctrine. There is a superstitious practice, lynchings as a sport, but Michigan, Ohio, Minnesota and Pennsylvania have tolerated more lynching in the last 15 years than the deep south ever.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

New York, June 20 —(AP)— One of the oldest and most respected universities in the South may give up football within the next couple of years. It won't happen before 1951 because there's a pretty good team coming up this fall. But the school, with harder entrance requirements than its rivals, is finding the competition for players tough as well as distasteful. Looks like Stanford is coming back as an athletic power — third in the Marietta, second in the NCAA track meet and already tabbed as the team to beat in Pacific coast football next fall. When the Lamotta-Graziano fight was called off, the advance sale was less than 24 g's, which isn't a lot two weeks before a big outdoor show.

He's In Their Hair If Denny Myers, Boston college football coach, wants to do a little preliminary scouting for the Eagles' game with Georgia, Oct. 27, he only has to go to the barber shop. Seems Denny's pet barber is Ray Schillone, a former wrestler, whose son Joe is a sophomore fullback at Georgia. And Ray has the shop walls plastered with photos of Georgia footballers.

One-Minute Sports Page Although George Weiss has been taking some hard raps for that Yankees-Browns trade, he has at least proved it isn't impossible to deal with him. Rival magnates were claiming they couldn't trade with the Yanks because George always demanded too much. Incidentally, Yank followers report the club has been scouting Chuck Connors, flashy Montreal first sacker. A precedent was set at the Marietta regatta when members of Washington's three winning crews were awarded individual medals. They were presented by John Collyer, president of the Goodrich Rubber Co., who is an old Cornell Oarsman. And don't listen too closely to talk of return to the regatta to Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Intercollegiate Rowing association officials have had a chance to study the balance sheet. The observation train alone was worth some $20,000, which they couldn't get at Poughkeepsie.

Sour Note When and if James Robert (Bob) Lemon, a promising hitter with the Oklahoma City Indians, moves up to join Pitcher Bob Lemon on the parent Cleveland club, it may be a trifle confusing to the fans. But, brother, what a chance to call for a squeeze play.

Dots All, Brothers The U. of Maryland running track is being torn up and rebuilt for the National AAU championships next week-end. Off the NCAA track meet results, the Pacific coast should have just a breeze against the Big Ten team tonight. . . . Peur, Ill., boasts a double-reversible battery in Bill (Butt)on's Lieke and Gene Schoben. They're both pitchers and catchers and they play alternately with Ladd, Ill. in the Illinois Valley league and Gipsy Beer in the Peru Twilight league. . . . The National Hockey league has voted to penalize players who bang sticks against the boards in protesting decisions. Still no objection to banging heads.

Waldo Still Top Team in SWA League The Waldo Giants moved to two full games ahead of El Dorado as they handed the Oilers their second set back 14 to 6 in a game played at Waldo in Southwest Arkansas League.

The win came on the pitching arm of Cook his fifth SWA win, and Harrison was charged with his second loss of the season. (Harrison's record is 7-2).

The Camden Kraftmen defeated Hope's Legionnaires in a make-up contest and miss out on an opportunity to take third place by dropping a 5 to 7 contest to the improving Mineral Springs Flyers.

Hope and Camden are now tied for fourth place after the Legionnaires dropped a 4 to 3 contest to the Springhill Sports.

In the second division Murrefreesboro, Springhill, Gurdon, and Mineral Springs complete the standings.

Games this week will find series between Hope and 1 Dorado; Waldo and Mineral Springs; Camden and Gurdon; and Springhill and Murrefreesboro.

The standings for games played through Friday, June 16:

Team W L Pct
Waldo Giants 14 4 .778
El Dorado Lion Oil 12 6 .667
Hope Legionnaires 11 7 .611
Camden Kraftmen 11 7 .611
Murrefreesboro Red Sox 9 9 .500
Springhill Sports 8 9 .471
Gurdon Athletics 3 14 .176
Mineral Spgs. Flyers 3 14 .176

Last Week's Results: Murrefreesboro 14 Gurdon 3
Camden 9 Mineral Spgs. 6
Hope 5 Springhill 2
Camden 3 Hope 1
Waldo 14 El Dorado 6
Mineral Springs 7 Camden 5
Springhill 4 Hope 3
Murrefreesboro 11 Gurdon 6

Game to be made up: Springhill vs. Gurdon.

By The Associated Press Little Rock's Travelers won their fifth game in a row Monday night, and the score was another shocker — 10-3 over New Orleans.

Since starting a home stand Friday the Rocks have won exactly half as many games as they won the first two months of the season.

Pelican Pitcher Jim Mims was the loser, but not because of his hitting. He singled in New Orleans' two short rallies and batted in on of the Pelican runs.

Little Mary Rotblatt shut out Mobile, 10-0, with a five-hit job and the Memphis Chicks moved half a game closer to second place Birmingham. Only one game separated them.

The victory was the Chicks' sixth in seven games. It gave Rotblatt the best record in the league — nine wins, three defeats.

Birmingham and Nashville were idle.

Front running Atlanta won from Chattanooga, 4-3, and moved four and a half games ahead of Birmingham.

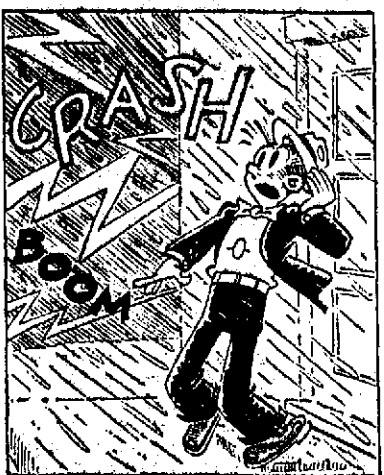

For Atlanta it was victory No. 1 by one-run. However, it still looks as though the Crackers are in a slump. Chattanooga worked on Cracker pitching for 12 safeties.

Gift Run in 11th Beats Hope 3-2

The El Dorado Lion Oilers pushed across an unearned run in the bottom half of the eleventh inning last night at Legion Field to beat Hope 3-2 and shove the Legionnaires down to fourth place in the Southwest Arkansas League standings.

The win for El Dorado was remarkable in the aspect that they garnered only 3 hits off Denny Ross and Charles Gough, but one of the hits came at a decisive stage of the game. In the seventh frame with none out Wodie Tene was safe at first as Bob White threw wide at first on his ground-

Special Grand Juries Get Indictments

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, June 19 (AP)—Three grand juries in New York City today returned indictments against 11 persons in connection with the Rosenberg case.

It was set up in New York City among other things, that was the headquarters of the Communist party. It worked 18 months. No special federal grand jury can exist longer than that.

Before it was through, it indicted 11 persons, including the Rosenbergs, for teaching overthrow of the government. They were then tried and found guilty.

Alger Hiss, former state department official, for perjury because he denied giving away secret state department papers. He was tried and found guilty.

At the end of its 18 months' life, the second special federal grand jury was put to work in New York in subversion. Its 18 months ended last week.

Before it was through, it indicted Judith Coplon, former government worker, and Vincent Gubitchev, a Russian, for spying. They were tried and found guilty.

It indicted William Remington, government economist, for perjury because he said he never had been a communist. He is awaiting trial.

It gave government officials a bill of health in their handling of the Amerasia case. That involved the theft of secret government papers but only two men were punished. They got off with fines.

As it ended its 18 months' job, this second special federal grand jury recommended that still a third one be created to continue the investigation including a further look at Amerasia.

But what is a special federal grand jury? What's it for? How does it get that way?

The constitution says everyone accused of a crime shall be tried by a jury and "no person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on indictment of a grand jury."

That's the basis for the government's jury system. There are therefore two kinds of juries: a grand jury and a petit jury.

The United States is divided into federal districts. Each has its own court, judge, U. S. district attorney, trial jury and grand jury.

All the juries are made up of citizens from the district. No one who has been convicted of a crime can be on a grand jury. There are 12 men on the grand jury. A trial jury can be an accused man guilty, all 12 must agree.

A grand jury—whether just a regular grand jury or a special grand jury or a special grand jury—must have no less than 16 members, no more than 23. Actually, it has 23. Before a grand jury can make a charge against anyone, a majority of the 23 or 12 must agree.

When the district attorney believes a person has committed a major offense, he must lay his reasons for thinking so—his evidence—before the grand jury.

If it thinks there's not enough evidence it turns the suspected

Methodists in North Arkansas Close Session

North Little Rock, June 19 (AP)—The annual meeting of the North Arkansas Conference of the Methodist churches ended here yesterday with reading of pastoral appointments.

There were two changes in district superintendents. The Rev. W. F. Cooley, who has been pastor at Russellville, was named superintendent of the Fayetteville district to succeed the Rev. E. H. Hook. Mr. Hook was assigned as superintendent of the Eastern Methodist assembly at Sequoyah.

Dr. W. Henry Goodloe, who has been pastor of the first church at Jonesboro, was assigned as superintendent of the Fort Smith district. He succeeds the Rev. Cecil R. Curver, who has been designated pastor of Winfield church, Little Rock, in the Little Rock conference.

The North Arkansas conference will meet next year at Paragould.

Truman Will Try to Speed H-Bomb Work

Washington, June 19 (AP)—Congressional sources said today President Truman will ask congress for $300,000,000 to speed up work on the hydrogen bomb.

A member of the house appropriations committee, asking not to be named, said the money would be used entirely for construction work at existing atomic energy installations, mainly at Oak Ridge, Tenn., Los Alamos, N. M., and Hanford, Wash.

This informant said he understood Mr. Truman's request would be sent to the Capitol in a day or two.

Such a request would mark the first time that money had been asked directly for work on the hydrogen "super bomb."

President Truman ordered the atomic energy commission (AEC) last January to go ahead with attempted development of the new weapon which might be 1,000 times as powerful as the original atomic bomb.

At that time, figures ranging all the way from $100,000,000 to $400,000,000 were being mentioned on Capitol Hill as the possible cost of the project.

man free. If it thinks the evidence against him is good, it indicts him, that, it makes a formal charge against him.

Then he must stand trial before a trial jury.

The grand jury system prevents any citizen from being charged with a major federal crime on the malice or whim or ignorance of some U. S. district attorney. He can't make a major charge without the backing of a grand jury.

While every federal district has at least one grand jury, some heavily populated districts where crimes are more numerous, such as southern New York, may have as many as four grand juries.

But—these grand juries pass on only the usual crimes. When some unusual situation arises—like subversion—a special investigation by a special grand jury may be considered necessary.

In that case the judge of the district court appoints the jury or the U. S. district attorney may ask him to. That's why the special grand jury in New York was set up.

Chiropody Group Names New President

Little Rock, June 20 (AP)—Dr. A. E. Pollack, Little Rock, was elected president of the Arkansas Chiropody association here yesterday.

Dr. George Herman, Pine Bluff, was elected vice president, and Dr. W. C. Gigerick, Hot Springs, secretary-treasurer.

The National Geographic Society says eruptions of Mt. are usually from side craters, not the summit.

Laney Opens Campaign for Governor

Little Rock, June 19 (AP)—With his formal opening speech behind him, Ben Laney started touring the state today in his campaign for a third term in the governor's office.

His chief rival, Governor McMath, won't make his formal opening speech until next Saturday night at Pine Bluff. But that doesn't mean he hasn't been campaigning.

Laney headquarters said yesterday the former governor had changed this week's speaking schedule to include a speech at Morrilton Saturday night.

Earlier in the week, Laney will be in southeast Arkansas with appearances at several places each day and speech each night. He'll speak at Fordyce tonight.

Saturday he'll speak at McGhee at 2 p. m. and then drive 150 miles northeastward for the night rally at Morrilton.

The same night McMath will be at Pine Bluff. McMath headquarters said there'll be special trains from throughout Arkansas going to Pine Bluff. A downtown parade will precede the speaking.

Laney formally touched off his campaign here Saturday night by promising to lower taxes and eliminate "unnecessary spending" if he is elected.

McMath spoke informally at a political rally near Benton.

Formally or informally, each criticized the other's administration. But neither mentioned the other's name.

West Mining Bridges, Roads to Stall Reds

By WES GALLAGHER

Frankfurt, Germany, June 19 (AP)—The Western Allies are reported mining key roads and bridges throughout west Germany and other parts of Europe to stall any possible Soviet attack.

These preparations came to light yesterday when a German magazine published pictures of a winding highway around famed Lorelei mountain on the Rhine river in the French zone. The pictures showed a row of holes being drilled in the road and then covered with concrete caps. Explosive charges dropped into the holes would tumble the highway into the Rhine at one of its narrowest points.

American headquarters declined to comment. But a French source in the Koblenz area said:

"It is not only on this route on which such measures are taken and not only the French who are making such preparations. It is the Allied high command which ordered this."

Plans have been in the books for more than a year for Allied occupation forces in western Germany to fight a delaying action, if trouble comes.

The plans call for evacuation of civilians as rapidly as possible. Emergency signals have been given all dependents of U. S. Army and Air Force officials to be prepared to pull out if and when an alarm is flashed.

Indications are that the Western defense chiefs have drawn up a master plan for similar defense

More Talks in Malvern Brick Strike Scheduled

Little Rock, June 20 (AP)—An effort to settle the six-weeks old strike at the Malvern plant of the Acme Brick company was scheduled here today.

Representatives of the company and of striking Local 602 of the United Brick and Clay Workers union (AFL) were to meet with Federal Conciliator Charles A. Wheeler.

The employees struck after contract negotiations bogged down.

Since the strike started May 8 five striking employees have been charged with violation of the Arkansas anti-strike violence statute and the automobile of one complaining witness has been dynamited.

Ray W. Pafford, Fort Smith, general manager, was to represent the company; Paul Pelfrey, Texarkana, regional representative of the brick workers, the union.

preparations in other European countries.

The pictures touched off a furor in the Russian-controlled East German press.

The Communist newspapers did not mention any possibility of a Russian attack, but declared the planned destructions were "part of an American aggressor's plan to march against the Soviet Union."

One newspaper said the Americans are preparing to follow Hitler's scorched earth policy.

The Red press also claimed the French planned to blow up the side of Lorelei mountain, damming the Rhine and flooding the country for miles around.

A French spokesman described the report as "nonsense."

Rowland to Get Hearing Next Week

Little Rock, June 20 (AP)—Former City Attorney Jay Rowland of Hot Springs will get a hearing here next Monday on his charge that his conviction for bribery was a frame up.

But until then he'll have to stay in the Arkansas penitentiary, where he surrendered last week to begin a one-year sentence.

Federal Judge Thomas C. Trimble granted the hearing on Rowland's petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

He denied, however, a request that Rowland be freed on bond until the hearing is held.

Habeas corpus is a proceeding under which a person is taken into court for an inquiry into lawfulness of his imprisonment.

Rowland will be brought here from Tucker prison farm in custody of guards.

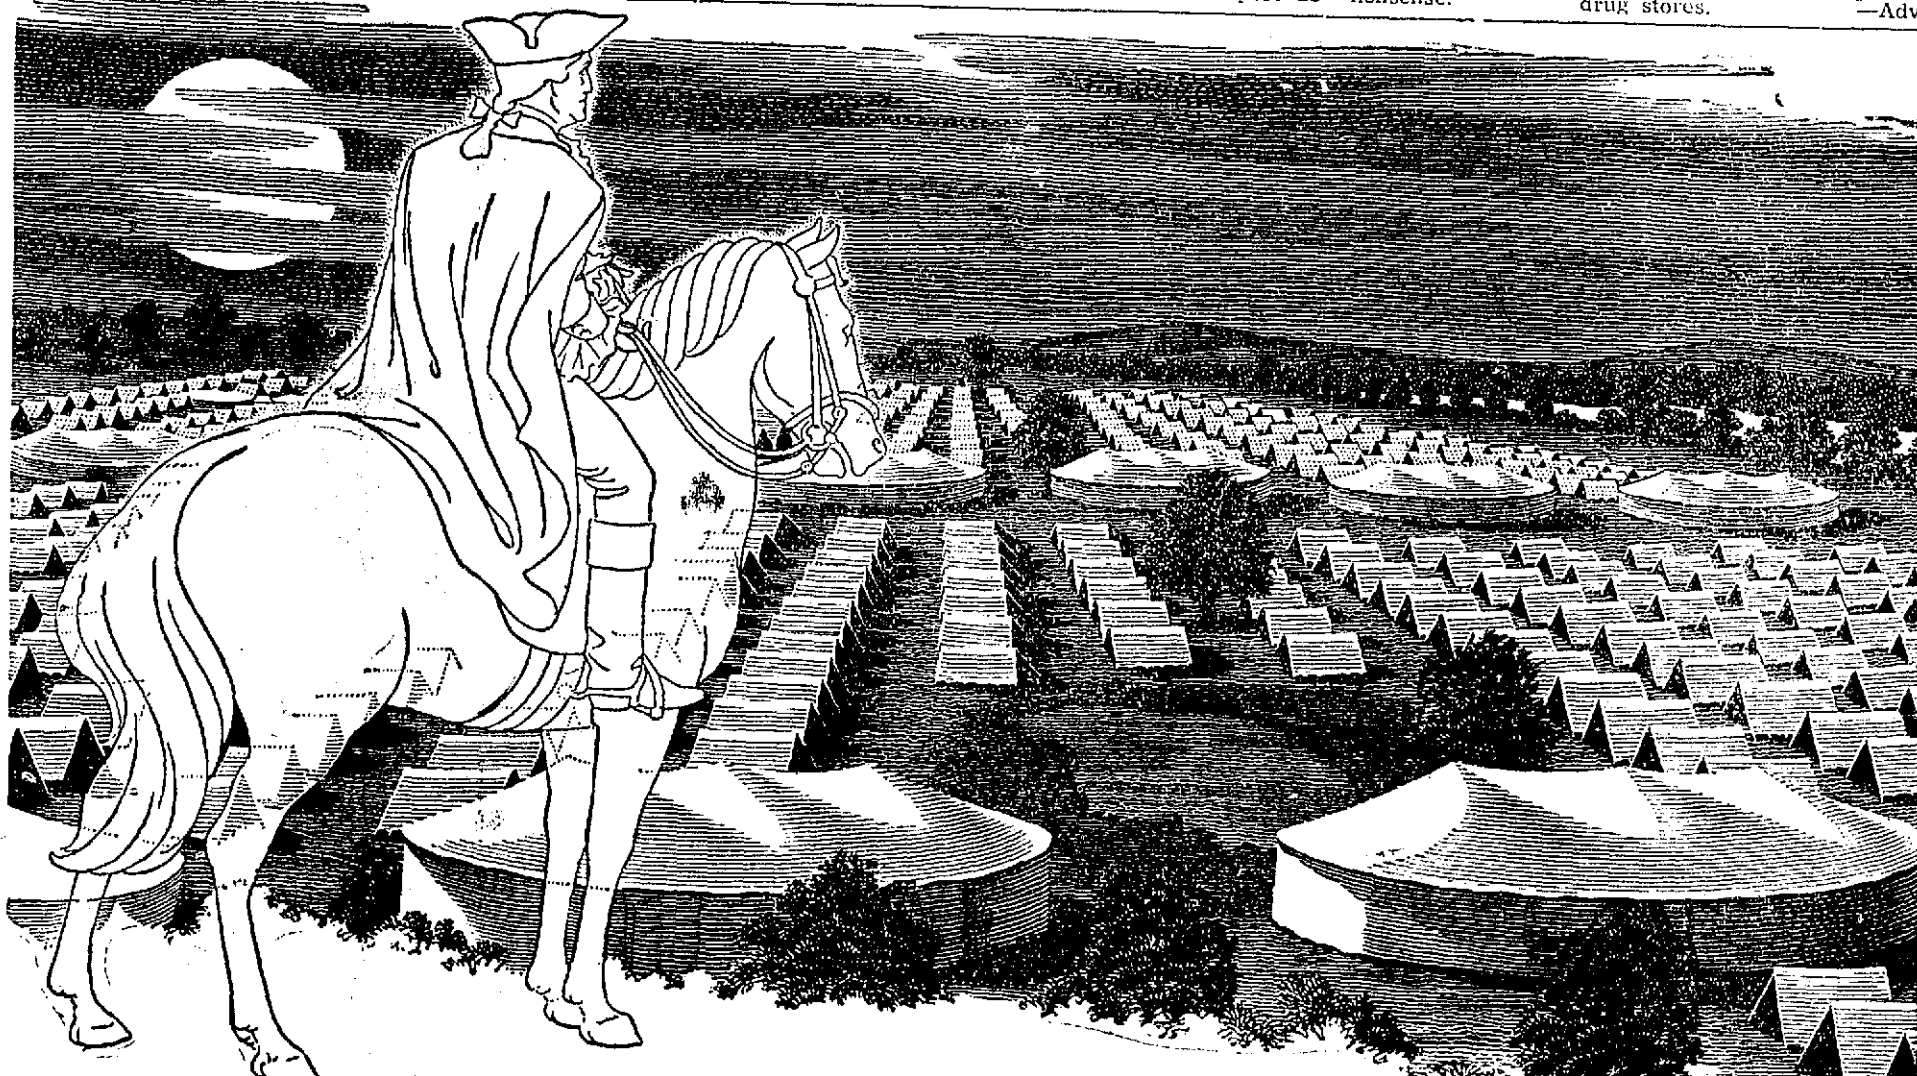

Rowland, an associate of former Mayor Leo P. McLaughlin of Hot Springs, was convicted at Hot Springs in 1947 on a charge of accepting bribes from gamblers. He was sentenced to a year in prison and ordered to pay a $750 fine.

After the Arkansas Supreme court declined to review it, Rowland's attorney took various other legal steps in an effort to keep their client out of the penitentiary.

WHAT'S HAPPENING AT VALLEY FORGE?

On June 30, in the Valley between Joy and Misery, an onlooker will view with pride the historic site near the old iron forge—and a new forging.

Where the Revolutionary army camped at Valley Forge, 47,000 Boy Scouts will pitch tents at the National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America, observing the 40th Anniversary of Scouting in the United States.

Where an army of men suffered to win liberty, the Boy Scouts gather to strengthen it. Their Jamboree in the Valley between Mt. Joy and Mt. Misery is a modern forging of self-reliance and good citizenship.

The spirit of General Washington's army would join today's Americans in cheering what's happening at Valley Forge.

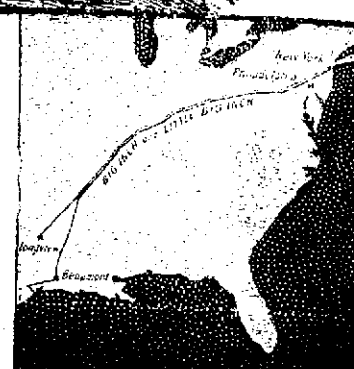

We at Texas Eastern have a special interest in the Boy Scouts' 40th Anniversary because Valley Forge lies close to the Inch Lines in Pennsylvania. Many of our sons, and those of our neighbors in communities along the pipe lines, will take part in the Jamboree. We wish them well on this patriotic adventure.
